A Triple Dare adventure in Costa Rica offers both adventure and relaxation. The Costa Rican forests are home to thousands of different plants and animals, claiming more than 5% of the planet's total species. The entire U.S., Canada and all of Europe combined claim less than 2%. Exotic animals ranging from poison dart frogs to crocodiles, howler monkeys and tree sloths make their homes in Costa Rica's rainforests.

Many adventure travel companies offer ecotours, wildlife viewing and daring sporting adventures in Costa Rica. Triple Dare offers more. Our base camp destination is described my National Geographic as "one of the most ecologically intense places on earth." Located on a remote peninsula on the southern Pacific shores, the area is surrounded by a canopied rainforest that contains hidden waterfalls, sheltered coves that can only be reached by boat or kayak and long stretches of magnificent beaches.

As with all Triple Dare adventures,

"This is one trip that I won't have to tell stories about 'the one that got away!'"

"We fished in the morning and toured the jungle in the afternoon - The perfect balance of land and sea adventure. The zip line through the forest canopy was unforgettable!"

"I'd seen parrots like this at the zoo, but never in the wild... Amazing!"

sleep in the rainforest, where you'll rest alongside more than 3,00 species of butterflies and more than 10,000 type of flora and fauna.

Amid some of the most beautiful scenery in the world, with wildlife more diverse than anywhere on ear, you can do it all or nothing at all. The choice is yours.

travelers will enjoy the experience of sharing stories with the locals – "Ticos" who are very friendly and quick to demonstrate what makes Costa Rica such a special place. Pura Vida!

For those wishing to push themselves a bit farther, the option of raising adrenalin by zooming over the jungle canopy on a zip line, hooking a 200 pound leaping sailfish and whitewater rafting are all available Triple Dare has longstanding relationships with local river guides who are experts at navigating smooth family paddles, ferocious Class V rapids and everything in between.

Your Costa Rican adventure will be customized so that, at the end of the day, you can relax at a spa with excellent dining and poolside cocktail service—or, you can
